

Australian National University

Coral Bell
School of Asia
Pacific Affairs

Gender, Justice and Security: Structural Challenges, Feminist Innovations and Radical Futures

Image credit: Jacqueline Staforelli

Join us for the launch of the Hub's report:
Gender, Justice and Security: Structural Challenges, Feminist Innovations and Radical Futures

UKRI GCRF Gender, Justice and Security Hub (the Hub) is an interdisciplinary, transnational research network addressing urgent global injustices like conflict and gender-based violence.

Over five years, the Hub has collaborated with local and global partners to advance Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) 5 on gender equality, SDG 16 on peace and justice, & the Women, Peace and Security agenda.

This report, co-authored by Hub members, presents findings, reflects on the Hub's feminist framework, and envisions a transformative future for gender justice and inclusive security.

Panel

Professor Kirsten Ainley,
Department of International Relations, ANU Coral Bell School of Asia Pacific Affairs

Professor Laura J. Shepherd, School of Social and Political Sciences, University of Sydney

Details

5.30-7.30 pm, Monday 23 September 2024
Theatrette 2.02, Sir Roland Wilson Building

Register

Hub Report

This Report Launch is held as part of a series celebrating the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Department of International Relations, located within the Coral Bell School of Asia Pacific Affairs at The Australian National University.