

Emerging Perspectives on the Historical International Relations of Asia

Graduate Research and Development Network on Asian Security (GRADNAS) Seminar Series

Australian National University

This seminar brings together three emerging scholars advancing new directions in the Historical International Relations of Asia. Tommy theorises how regional peripheries like Southeast Asia illuminate the boundaries of regional and global order. Frieder examines diplomatic encounters in the making of East Asian and European inter-polity orders. Kayeon reconsiders the 'state vs empire' and 'anarchy vs hierarchy' dichotomies by revisiting the concept of the 'emperor' in historical East Asia.

Speakers

Tommy Chai (PhD Candidate, ANU)
Dr Frieder G. Dengler (American University)
Kayeon Roh (PhD Candidate, University of Southern California)

Chair: Associate Professor Manjeet S. Pardesi (Victoria University of Wellington)

Contact

gradnas@anu.edu.au

Details

Thurs 8 May 2025, 8.30-10am AEST

